Meet Our Judges

Sue Bell, Chair of Judges

Winemaker/Director of Bellwether in Coonawarra in Boandik country, intimate, immersive winery experience. She dabbles in the classics and an array of Mediterranean varieties.

A regular judge, sue has chaired shows in WA, Tasmania, Victoria and SA. Deliciousness and true representation of what a region stands for is what Sue encourages judges to find.

Inspired by nature and people - making hard work fun is her mantra, making wine along the way in a healthy environment that includes all.

Len Evans tutorial Dux 2007, Australian Rural leadership program graduate 2008, Australian Society Viticulture & Oenology winemaker of the year 2014, Gourmet traveller Winemaker of the Year finalist 2021.

Pablo Theodoros

After over 10 years of working fine wine retail Pablo left for a venture in the Adelaide Hills, as the publican at the Stanley Bridge Tavern in 2016. As a former co-owner of Mothervine Wine Bar also, being involved in both businesses gave Pablo a great view of wines from all over the world. Since October 2020, he has taken over a role as the wine director of Duxton Hospitality, one of Australia's fastest growing hospitality groups.

A scholar of the prestigious Len Evans tutorial, he has previously judged at many regional wine shows around South Australia and Australia wide.

Riley Harrison

Riley was born and bred in the Adelaide Hills. A University of Adelaide graduate in Oenology and also in Viticulture, he has experience the world over. Locally, Riley has worked in McLaren Vale, Barossa Valley, Adelaide Hills and Hunter Valley wine regions; his international experience includes Germany's Mosel Valley, California and Portugal.

Riley has spent the past 10 years crafting wine from corporate level right down to small scale, garagiste style operations. In the background he has been steadily building an arsenal of wines under his own label - Harrison Wine.

Riley now dedicates all of his time to making the Harrison Wine dream become a reality. Riley is driven by crafting wines of aromatic intrigue and textural pleasure, but most importantly the wines must truly reflect the country on which they were grown.

Riley joins us as judge in 2023 after previous stints at the show as Associate Judge in 2015 and 2016. Riley has extensive judging experience across both regional and capital city wine shows and is very excited to be back judging in Langhorne Creek.

2023 Langhorne Creek Wine Show

Meet Our Judges

Merrick Watts, Associate Judge

I am very excited to be asked to associate judge at the Langhorne Creek Wine Show this year. Some of the wines made in the region were staples at my parents dining table and many, many times I have crossed the “punt” at Wellington into “the promised land”, so be involved in judging the wines of this very special region is truly an honour.

One time I got stung by a bee on the throat whilst riding my bike through there but that has absolutely nothing to do with wine. I hope the judges have enjoyed rehearing more riveting tales like that one throughout the judging process!

Brett Smith, Associate Judge

Brett is a senior winemaker at Belvidere Winery, Langhorne Creek, a role he came to from a similar position at Peter Lehmann Wines and before that Lindemans, Penfolds amongst others.

After dabbling in the realm of Sports Science, the wine bug took hold.

With a passion for the industry evidenced through a stellar list of achievements across wine education and working experience, including graduating as Dux in Bachelor of Viticulture and Oenology from the University of Adelaide (2011) followed with a Dux from the AWRI Barossa Advanced Wine Assessment Course, Brett is well versed to be a judge of the future wine show circuits.

Tyler Follett, Associate Judge

Tyler has been honing his knowledge and skills in the wine industry practically from birth you could say. Growing up in and around the Follett vineyards and winery it’s not hard to see how the industry is in his blood. There’s no easy path though and Tyler has proven his mettle doing vintages in the family fold, cellar door sales and a decade in the vineyards before putting a Master of Viticulture and Oenology under his belt from the University of Adelaide.

Tyler spread his wings as assistant winemaker at AVL Buronga Hill and is currently working as cellar hand at Matilda Plains Winery while also managing a local vineyard. Tyler has already dabbled in the wine show scene as a steward and is sure to make his mark in the industry .
